

Company Profile

The activity of Viganò group started takes in Inverigo (near Como lake) in 1950, as an handicraft operation.

In 1954, Viganò increased its facilities in order to develop the production of "Explosion Proof" Electrical material. With the aim of gradual development and quality improvement of their products, the laboratory D&R "Piero Viganò" was founded in 1958, and equipped for all needs to test any material and to check production.

In 1969, following market demand, the engineering division which specialises in iron plants and special machines, was founded.

In 1995 AD acquired the Viganò Electrical.

At the present, all activities have been rationalized and the new modern manufacturing plant is concentrated under the factory with the name of "A.D. VIGANÒ S.r.l." located in Concorezzo - Milano.

A.D. VIGANO'Srl is now ready to accept the new challenge of looking towards the Millenium.
